

The Agile Process Skill-Wheel

Which areas of knowledge should an Agile Coach or Scrum Master dive into? This is one of the most frequently asked questions we hear in our job.

Based on more than 10 years experience in consulting and training, we at the Agile Process GmbH have developed our own take on this topic.

Our Skill Wheel is meant to cover the most important aspects of organization-wide agility at every scale.

We are aware that all these different topics may be overwhelming on first sight. But they don't have to. Just approach them step by step, one at a time.

Also, as in every other job, an Agile Coach or Scrum Master can focus on certain aspects or try to become a generalist with a broad spectrum. Both ways can work.

Our Agile Process Skill-Wheel can help to discover possible fields of personal growth. We hope you like it.
